Realtor Testimonies

An additional benefit of having a well-run tennis program is the value added to the neighborhood. Many real estate agents have stated that having a strong tennis program enhances the value of homes in the community.

"Having a swim/tennis facility, and especially a successful tennis program greatly enhances the marketability of a neighborhood, largely due to the obvious fact that families moving in with children want to get them involved in neighborhood programs, and what better way to do that than tennis?"

Tobi Pomerance, Keller Williams Realty

"A quality tennis program is instrumental in the resale and appreciation of homes in Crooked Creek. Buyers know that buying a home in Crooked Creek will give everyone in their family the opportunity to play tennis - both competitively and socially. Homeowner dues are truly paying for something of value that in turns helps to maintain the value of their homes."

Brenda Longoria, Prudential

"I can tell you first hand that this is a frequently asked question to me when working with Buyers. It is most definitely a great selling point for the neighborhood."

Jackie Maness, Coldwell Banker

"Just a quick note to remind Buyers that Swim & Tennis communities and have a definite resale advantage over communities that do not offer this amenity. Whenever I am researching homes for prospective buyers, I always keep Swim/Tennis amenities on my radar, especially those communities such as Crooked Creek in Alpharetta. Crooked Creek offers year round programs and several top tennis instructors to teach at all levels of ability."

Art Worley, Re/Max Realty

"First and foremost I want to say how impressed I am with all of Silvia Tennis Academy's Accomplishments. What an incredible program to offer in today's market. I find that in today's market people are looking for lifestyle improvements and extras in any given neighborhood community. I typically look for street lights, sidewalks and definitely swim and tennis. STA's program would be another added bonus in making that community a step above the rest. The program is only adding value and home appreciation in today's market. This becomes a win/win for the homeowner's and realtor's working these communities."
